3NT by North

You can be sure West has the ♣A because North would have played the suit differently if he held the Ace.

West will win the ♣A and return his ♠ through North's ♠ A Q. This allows you to set up your ♠ suit while you still have the ♣K for an entry.

[showcards S:C6]

You are East. The bidding has been as shown.

You lead the ♠7; ♠3, ♠2 and won by North with ♠Q.

North then plays the ♣6 from his hand. Which ♣ should you play?

Play the ♣J.

You should not allow yourself to be misled by North winning the first trick with the ♠Q. West does not hold either the ♠A or the ♠J or he would have played it. North is just trying to be deceptive.

That means you need the next ♠ play to come from West, so you play your ♣J and let West win his ♣A.

 overruff any of West's trumps.

[showcards N:S6]

You are North. The bidding has been as shown. Partner led the ♦ Q, you signaled with the ♦ 8 and East won the ♦ A.

East then played low to dummy's ♠ K, and led dummy's ♠ 6. Your decision is not whether to play high or low, but whether to ruff or not, which amounts to the same thing.

Do not ruff.

Even though East holds the ♠ A, if you ruff now he will just put on a small ♠ and you will be ruffing a loser. Instead discard a ♦.

East will win the ♠ A, but will not be able to ruff any ♠ losers in dummy because your trumps can Suppose you had ruffed the ♠. East would have played his ♠ 9, leaving himself with ♠ A J. He would then get the lead and pull your two remaining trumps. That would leave one trump in dummy to ruff his ♠ J, his only remaining loser.

You are West. The bidding has been as shown.

You lead the ♣K and continue with the ♣J then ♣Q, taken by South's ♣A. To trick 4 South plays the ♥4. What do you play?

Play the ♥Q.

To see why you should play the ♥Q, just visualize the result if you play low. South will finesse with dummy's ♥8. If East wins his ♥J on this trick there will be 4 good ♥ tricks in dummy. If East withholds his ♥J then Declarer will have 3 ♥ winners.

Now visualize the result of playing the ♥Q. Whether South takes this trick or not he cannot win more than
